GERMANS CLAIM NEW GAINS IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST RUSSIA

Two Children Killed in Head-on Auto Crash at Garland

Axis Retreat In Egypt is Pushed By British Army

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
British headquarters announced today that Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck's Egyptian army had driven the Axis into retreat for the second successive day, while in the Russian campaign a sharp new crisis was indicated by a German claim that Nazi spearheads had crossed the Nazi Don.

London military quarters said Adolf Hitler, now pressing a full-scale offensive, had thrown more than 1,000,000 troops into the Kursk drive on a mammoth wheeling operation to overrun the approaches to the Caucasus.

Kursk, 130 miles north of Kharkov, was described by the Russians last week as the scene of the greatest tank battle of the year.

Advices reaching London said the Germans, using 1,500 first line aircraft and 10 divisions to spearhead the lunge eastward, had already forced the Russians back in the region of Voronezh on the Moscow-Rostov railway.

The Vichy radio, often a Nazi propaganda outlet, asserted that Gen. Heinz Guderian's tank columns had cut the vital rail line.

Two German columns were said to be approaching Voronezh from the northwest and southwest, aiming at a junction west of the Don for an assault on the city of 212,000.

A Berlin dispatch to a Swiss newspaper quoted German military circles as admitting that the British had succeeded in bringing up enough reserves to take the offensive.

A bulletin from Imperial GHQ said British troops, pressing the initiative, attacked Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces in three all-day fighting in Egypt yesterday and "in a night attack drove the enemy from a strong point, inflicting heavy casualties."

The New York Times said private advices indicated that Gen. Rommel might fall back to Matruh, 110 miles west of the present battle zone, to shorten his supply line.

Japs Step Up Assaults On Port Moresby

Raids By Allies Prevent Enemy From Amassing Attacking Force

CONTINUOUS FIGHTING

Allied Headquarters, Australia, July 6.—(P)—The Japanese stepped up their air attacks on Port Moresby yesterday, sending 23 planes against that southern New Guinea port as Allied bombers stabbed anew at enemy bases in northeastern New Guinea, Timor and the Solomon Islands.

The BBC, heard in New York by CBS, quoted an Australian correspondent as saying that Japanese bases above Australia were preventing the enemy from massing forces for an offensive.

"There is little doubt that the Japanese are able to replace their losses," the correspondent said, "but our consistent attacks are hurting their striking power."

Twenty heavy Japanese bombers escorted by six fighters launched the assault on Port Moresby and were followed by a second wave of seven.

The raid, directed at the airfield, caused only slight damage and casualties, a communiqué said.

The airfield also was the objective of an attack Saturday by 20 Japanese fighters, one of which was shot down in a melee in which three Allied aircraft were lost.

The bulletin said that Allied bombers had carried out another heavy attack yesterday on the Japanese bases of Lae and Salamaua in northeastern New Guinea, which have been the targets of almost daily attacks of late.

"Large fires were observed at various points in the target area," the communiqué said. "One enemy fighter was shot down and four were damaged."

Both Lae and Salamaua were bombed the preceding day by Allied fighters, who shot down five Japanese planes.

Light Allied attacks were made on Stamboca, Timor and at Hala, which is situated in the Solomons not far from Tulagi.

SUBS SINK 3 ENEMY SHIPS IN ALEUTIANS

Navy Communique Brings To Five the Number of Japanese Craft Sunk By U. S.

LEAVE DANGER ZONE

Washington, July 6.—(P)—The navy announced today that United States submarines had sunk three Japanese destroyers in the Aleutian Islands July 4 and had left a fourth destroyer "burning fiercely."

A communiqué based on information received up to 12:30 p. m. eastern war time, today said:

"North Pacific area:
"1. On the Fourth of July U. S. submarines torpedoed four Japanese destroyers in the Aleutian Islands.
"2. Three of these destroyers were attacked at Kiska. Two were sunk and the third, when last seen, was burning fiercely.
"3. The fourth destroyer was torpedoed and sunk at Agattu, where enemy transports and escorting vessels were located on July 2 and were attacked by army bombers."

Today's navy report raised Japan's losses in her efforts to establish occupation forces on the western Aleutians to five ships sunk—three destroyers, one cruiser and one transport—and nine damaged, including an aircraft carrier.

All the attacks prior to the Independence Day submarine offensive had been made by army and navy aircraft, which have been limited in their operations by the infrequency of favorable weather.

All the natives and the few white residents have been evacuated from the western Aleutian islands, where army airmen have been playing cat and mouse with the Japanese whenever weather permits, and from the Pribilof Islands in the Bering Sea north of Dutch Harbor.

The Japanese landing at Attu, however, was said by Delegate Dimond of Alaska to have prevented the evacuation of the few residents of that island. There were no natives at Kiska, where the Japanese also have landed.

This has not deterred the army (Turn to Page Two)

March Field, Calif., July 6.—(P)—Army officials announced tonight that the bodies of Maj. Gen. Herbert A. Dargatzis and Capt. James G. Leavitt, killed with six others in the crash of an army transport plane last December 12, had been found near the scene of the accident high on Kidd Mountain near Big Pine, Calif.

Recovery of the two bodies left but one remaining victim of the crash missing. He was Sgt. Stephen Hoffman of March Field, formerly of Chabot, Pa.

The plane was en route from Phoenix, Ariz. to Hamilton Field, Capt. Deavitt, of Riverside, Cal., presumably was piloting the ship.

Charge Youth In Abduction of Young Girl

Found By Posse Living In Abandoned Chicken Coop In Wyoming County

WANTED FOR EVASION

Tunkhannock, July 6.—(P)—A 23-year-old man is in Wyoming county jail today, accused of abducting a 14-year-old girl at pistol-point, holding her captive five days in a forest, then wounding her when a posse attempted to capture him.

Corp. Leroy Thomas of the state motor police identified the man as Charles Sebaucak of near-by Nicholson and the girl as Louise Oakley. He said a posse found them in an abandoned chicken coop and that Sebaucak fired three shots when they approached.

Sebaucak had hid in the woods since May 22, when he failed to appear for trial on draft evasion charges, the corporal said. He was emaciated and near exhaustion when captured yesterday.

Thomas gave this description of Sebaucak's actions since his arrested disappearance:
He slept in barns or on the ground, ate only what was brought to him by his sister, Anna, 15, and constantly eluded police searching for him.

Last Tuesday he left the woods, encountered the girl near her farm home, drew a pistol and forced her to accompany him back into the forest.

Four members of a searching posse of 50 farmers discovered him and the girl yesterday.

When called upon to surrender, he walked out of the coop holding the girl ahead of him, and then fired.

The girl's grandfather, Norman Oakley, 62, one of the posse, returned four shots, all of which missed, and Sebaucak was captured.

WPB CHIEF IS AGAINST PLAN TO USE GRAIN

Manufacture of Synthetic Rubber From Alcohol Would Use Metals Vital In War

ACTION BEING DEFERRED

Washington, July 6.—(P)—War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson protested today against a proposed program to produce synthetic rubber from grain on the ground that it would require critical materials "urgently needed for the war effort."

Opposing a bill calling for creation of a rubber supply agency to direct manufacture of synthetic rubber from grain alcohol, Nelson told a senate agriculture subcommittee sponsoring the measure that construction of such distilleries would require copper and steel.

"Every pound of copper and steel taken away from our present supply," he asserted, "would hinder the war program. And that is of paramount interest."

"Further, by placing production of synthetic rubber under an agency director, you would take from the president his control over priorities. This director could do anything he wanted to direct the flow of materials needed for war."

NATION'S SOFT COAL FILES ARE TOO SMALL

Washington, July 6.—(P)—Notwithstanding a 5,575,000-ton increase in the nation's soft coal stockpile during May, acting Director Howard A. Gray of the solid fuels office said today that amount now in storage was not sufficient to guarantee adequate protection against wartime shortages.

The bituminous coal division of the interior department estimated that on June 1 consumers held 67,409,000 tons of soft coal in storage against 61,836,000 tons on May 1.

By the Associated Press
Violent death took its lowest holiday toll in years over the two-day Fourth of July weekend, with only 334 lives reported lost against a 628 total for the three-day celebration of the Fourth last year. Twenty accidental deaths were reported in Pennsylvania.

Gasoline rationing on the popular eastern seaboard, war plants operating everywhere over the holiday and fireworks restrictions combined to lessen accidental deaths.

The toll by states included: Delaware 2, Maryland 3, New Jersey 9, New York 15, West Virginia 6.

Pennsylvania county 20 accidental deaths today from an Independence Day weekend marked by light highway travel, record-breaking traffic on trains and buses, and uninterrupted production in the state's great war plants.

The first Fourth of July under gasoline and tire rationing brought 25 to 50 per cent increases in bus and train travel, carrier officials reported.

Five persons were killed when an automobile crashed into a tree near Reading Saturday night in the worst mishap of the weekend.

The dead were Luther S. Levas, 45, Mrs. Ruth V. Haggerty, 36, Shirley Haggerty, 18, her niece, Rosalyn Straub, 20, and John DeLand, 28, all of Reading. Helen Haggerty, 26, sister-in-law of Mrs. Haggerty, was seriously injured.

EIGHT OTHER PERSONS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Only Three Escape Injury As Car Being Operated By Barnes Man Goes Out of Control

SEVERAL ARE SERIOUS

Two persons were killed and eight injured, several seriously, in one of the most tragic highway accidents that has occurred in the county in over six months, when two automobiles collided almost head-on a mile west of Garland on Route 77 about nine o'clock this morning. The dead are two infant children of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Marshall, formerly of Blooming "Alley," who were enroute with their family to Wellsboro where they were to reside in the future. Eugene Marshall, one and one-half years old, is believed to have died instantly from a badly crushed skull. His brother David, five months, passed away at the Warren General hospital about 10:30 o'clock.

The accident occurred when a Chevy sedan driven by L. H. Warner, of Barnes, went out of control after traveling partly on the berm made soft by a steady rain, and collided with a Hummer automobile operated by Mrs. Margaret Marshall, mother of the two young victims.

But three of the thirteen persons who were passengers in the two cars escaped serious injury. Those under treatment are Clair Marshall, 39, his wife Margaret, 37; their children, Gussie aged 11 and Grace aged 8, Elva Bemis, 51, of Sheffield, George Greer, 64, L. H. Nine persons were treated for injuries received in a three-car collision which occurred Friday night at 11:15 o'clock about one-half mile south of Pittsfield on U. S. Route 24, according to a report received at the local barracks of the state motor police today.

The crash occurred when a Plymouth coupe, headed south on Route 27 and operated by Joe Hynel, 66, of Pittsfield, and a Buick sedan, traveling north and operated by E. R. Sampson, of Williamsburg, side-swiped. The Buick went on to strike a third car, a Chrysler sedan driven by Francis Zagst, 30, of Irvine, head-on. The Zagst machine was following Hynel southward on the highway when the accident took place.

Others injured beside Miss Hammon, who was riding in the Sampson car, included:

Frank McIntyre, passenger in the Hynel auto, R. D. 2 Pittsfield, cut on the nose and minor bruises.

Mrs. E. R. Sampson, Williamsburg, injured left arm.

Justine Zagst, 24, bruises about the legs and head.

John Zagst, 3, cut on the left side of the forehead.

Mary Zagst, 11, minor bruises about the head and legs.

Progress Is Made In War Work Classes

Announcement was made today by C. F. H. Wuesthoff, county vocational education supervisor, that work is going forward in the defense training courses being conducted throughout the Warren-Forest county area.

He reports a new course in tractor and truck mechanics has been established at the Western Iron Works at Wrightsville, with Clyde D. Hotchkiss, of Bear Lake, as instructor. There are 14 young men enrolled in this course, which will include Diesel engines.

A C. Western, instructor of the metal working course at Wrightsville, which has six weeks to go, reports he has some young men specializing in forge practices, which includes the making and tempering, cutting and punching of tools. Mr. Western recently spent a week at the Lincoln Welding School in Cleveland, where he obtained much of interest for use in his class, which includes arc and acetylene welding.

Three training courses have just been completed at the Lincoln school annex at Sheffield—one in electricity under the direction of C. F. Hansen, of Warren; two in arc and acetylene welding under H. O. Shirey and Earl Carr, of Sheffield. Those interested in subsequent courses may sign up by getting in touch with Bruce Smith, of the Sheffield High School, before July 13.

The Sheffield courses have been in operation since December 1, 1941, with 126 different young men participating. Most of these men are now employed in various industrial plants.

J. A. Shippe and Dean Getting, of Marienville, instructors in electricity and welding, respectively, report that much progress is being made and that the shops there have recently been supplied with equipment to make them more complete. Mr. Getting reports over fifty worthwhile repair orders have been taken to his shop, where the students not only received valuable practice, but did a service to the people of the community. These two courses will be completed shortly and will start again September 1.

Charles Campbell, principal of the Marienville school, who assisted in the direction of this work, has volunteered for army service and Karl Siefert, his successor, is now in charge. A. S. Payne, secretary of the school district, has been assisting in the Marienville classes.

More than 100 guests were at the reception in the church parlors, where the wedding cake, white roses and candles were used in artistic decorations and music was provided by Mrs. Chris Pepke, Mrs. George Cowden, Mrs. John Benze and W. Cards For Boys In Service Is Aim of Campaign in Warren

Mrs. Albert Rockwell, West Third avenue, long one of the first ranking card players of Warren and for some years prominent in the affairs of the American Contract Bridge League, has asked the cooperation of this entire community in a drive to find playing cards for boys in the service.

Hospitals and welfare organizations have made a very strong plea for used cards that may be given to the boys in hospitals and camps and Mrs. Rockwell emphasizes the fact that it does not matter how dog-eared the cards may be, they are still usable for solitaire and similar games.

To the end that Warren's quota of used cards may be realized, a special box has been placed in the lobby of the Library and patrons are asked to remember the boys and bring their cards when they attend the movies or are passing through that section of town.

Jean Koebly Is Bride of Gerald L. Cochran In Pretty Ceremony Read in Summer Garden

The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Koebly on the Conewango Creek was the scene of a pretty garden wedding at noon Saturday when their daughter, Jean, became the bride of Gerald L. Cochran, of Stansbury Manor, Middle River, Baltimore, Md., son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Cochran, of Warren.

The bridal procession moved across the lawn from the cottage to stand before a beautiful floral background of evergreens and mixed summer blossoms as Dr. Harold C. Warren, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long white gown, trimmed with lace and fashioned with long full sleeves. Her veil was of fingertip length and her arm bouquet was of white gladioli and sweet peas. Attending her as maid of honor was Audrey Cramer, of Warren and as bridesmaids, Meredith Young, of Warren, and Doris Lutz, of Harrisburg. Their frocks were similar to that worn by the bride, Miss Cramer in yellow with a bouquet of delphinium and yellow daisies, and the others in blue, with arm bouquets of Persian daisies and delphinium.

Paul Eichelberger, of Harrisburg, was Mr. Cochran's best man and ushers were James and Jack Eaton, sons of Mrs. Nora Eaton, of Warren, and nephews of the bride.

A wedding luncheon followed immediately at the Koebly home, with guests including these from out of town: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Eichelberger and Miss Lutz, Harrisburg; Mrs. Robert Kendall and daughter, Mary Louise, York; Dr. and Mrs. George Rice, Mrs. Jane R. Johnson, Frewsburg, N. Y.

Afterward, the newlyweds left for a week's wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Baltimore, where Mr. Cochran is employed in the designing department of the Glenn L. Martin aircraft factory. Mrs. Cochran is a graduate of Mary 22 from Bucknell University and Mr. Cochran attended Duke University.

SUNSHINE

THE HEALTH-BUILDER

CAN BE ABUSED

Medical science tells us that sunshine activates a certain chemical substance in the body to form Vitamin "D," that powerful and essential agent for the development of calcium and phosphorus in the body. Your bones, teeth and general resistive powers profit by Vitamin "D" ... therefore, you will have greater resistive powers, and keep healthier in winter, if you store up sunshine in the summer.

However, too much sunshine can be harmful. A blistered back is just as painful from the sun as from the fire. Sunstroke is a dangerous and debilitating experience. Women can dry out their skins and sunburn their hair so badly, it will require months to revitalize them.

Accustom yourself gradually to the sun's rays—a little each day. Acquire your sun-tan by degrees. Protect your face and head. The sunshine will do you just as much good, and the Vitamin "D" storage will be just as complete, if the tan is acquired on limbs and body.

As one prominent Doctor told his patient, "You don't have to cook your brains, in order to get a sun-tan."

LEARNING FROM EXPERIENCE

Assuming that nation-wide gasoline rationing is in the cards, either now or after the fall elections, certain important lessons should be learned from the 10-week experiment which is approaching an end in the Atlantic Seaboard states.

Let's concede that the temporary system there was experimental, that Washington was attacking a mammoth task with inadequate experience and preparation. That is all the more reason why operations should have been watched with a most critical eye, in order that the permanent machinery—whether for the east alone or for the country as a whole—might be made sound and workable.

Two major types of trouble were apparent in the east almost from the start. One was individual chiseling, selfish and often brazen, abetted by many filling stations. The other was maldistribution of the rationed gasoline supply.

Chiseling, being an obnoxious social offense in addition to its unpatriotic qualities, appears to be well guarded against in the plan now supposed to become effective July 22.

Everybody gets an A card. Only local rationing boards, on specific types of authenticated claims, are supposed to authorize more generous fuel allowances. Dealers, starting with full tanks, can refill them only as they turn in consumer coupons proving actual rationed sales.

Unfortunately, unless the OPA gets public support to convince the War Production Board, maldistribution of gasoline is going to be perpetuated under the new plan, for the ironic reason that WPB insists on including too many safeguards.

If the gasoline to be made available is properly computed, and the unit allowance for each coupon is fixed on that basis, there is no reason for rationing filling stations.

During and because of the war, gasoline usage has changed. Workers have moved from their old homes to the mushroom seats of new or expanded industries.

But gasoline, under the system used in the east and proposed by the WPB to be retained, is distributed according to 1941 usage. Too much goes where it was needed last year, too little where it is needed now.

In some communities rationing cards aren't worth the paper they are printed on, while in others dealers have no outlet for gasoline to which they are entitled.

If rationing is extended to the rest of the country, with this WPB-approved extra control, maldistribution will get in its dirty work there, notwithstanding the plenitude of petroleum in back yard wells.

AUBREY'S NYA

The mystery of why Congress was comparatively generous to the National Youth Administration, while clamping down upon the generally approved Civilian Conservation Corps, deepens as one reads the Congressional Record.

"The boys get $18,810,000 and the supervisory folks and expense get $30,919,000?" asked Senator McKellar. "That is correct," agreed Aubrey Williams, head of the agency.

"That is the stoutest overhead I have ever read," commented the senator, with restraint. But NYA gets the dough.

So far as Warren is concerned, Independence Day seems to have been the quietest, safest and sanest on record. In spite of the large number of cars on the highways not one serious accident occurred.

The Struthers-Wells Band made a fine appearance in the Fourth of July parade at Titusville which was witnessed by a large number from here.

Many local folks were busy over the double holiday extending the glad hand to boys in the service who were spending brief furloughs at home.

Wherever there's gas rationing, folks who don't have that auto use tax stamp stuck on their windshield are stuck themselves.

It'll be good news for many to learn that the huckleberry crop this year promises to be a bumper one.

The Question

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The capital in wartime:

Shed a tear for Bob Strauss, WPB press relations man. He wanted to do something, himself personally, for the sugar situation. He decided to acquire some honey bees.

He went to his boss, Donald Nelson, formerly top executive in Sears-Roebuck. "I understand that S-R has bees for sale," said Strauss. "Do you think I could get some?"

"Certainly," replied Nelson. "I remember my catalog correctly, you can get a queen bee, the rest of the swarm, a hive, a head net, and a smudge pot for a very moderate sum."

Strauss put in the order. It was delivered. The hive, however, was missing and in its place was a note that materials in the hive were under priorities and that same could not be supplied at the moment.

With bees swarming all over his yard, Strauss dashed back to his chief. Nelson suggested he contact the Department of Agriculture and find out how to build a hive. Strauss did. His plans arrived. He studied them thoroughly and was about to start work when he came upon a footnote. It explained that nails absolutely necessary to construction of this type of hive are under priorities and not obtainable.

Bob isn't in bees any more but he's an expert on what can happen to the individual when priorities get in the way.

Now, the other day a show called "Stars and Garters" opened on Broadway. This wasn't burlesque—in name. It was a "Review" or "Vaudeville show."

OF COURSE, this is strictly baloney. It is burlesque and nothing else. All the noted strip dancers are in it. All the old burlesque clowns are in it. They do everything in this show that burlesque ever dared to do, and then some, yet Commissioner Moss hasn't raised his voice against it. Don't get me wrong, I'm not against it. I wasn't against burlesque. But you should remember this: Burlesque shows cost only about 40 cents. This revue costs $2.75. Bedroom gags are "popular" at 40 cents, but they're strictly okay at $2.75. This means that a premium has been placed on dirt. The poor people, who can only afford 40 cents, have been "saved," but if you can spend

$2.75 the smutty stories about the traveling salesman and the farmer's daughter won't hurt you. At 40 cents, Commissioner Moss finds strip dancers dirty and revolting. At $2.75 their art is "sophistication."

In the old burlesque days those ladies of the strip team, art, Miss Georgia Sothorn and Miss Gypsy Rose Lee, were famous. What they did was take off their clothes in a deliberate, (some say provocative) manner. What I wonder, they disrobed to music, while dancing back and across the stage, and the names they were called by our indignant censors would make your hair curl. Of course, the shows, being frankly burlesque, and pretending to be nothing else, cost about 40 cents.

BUT in "Stars and Garters," this same Miss Georgia Sothorn, and this same Miss Gypsy Rose Lee do the same old thing, to the same old tunes, in the same old (provocative?) way, and nobody is calling them names.

Bobby Clark, the clown, is an old burlesque graduate. He was funny in the Minsky 40 cent days. And he is funny today. But much of his material is identical with that used by him in the rich burlesque days right after the war.

I'm all for Gypsy. I'm all for Georgia. I'm all for Bobby. What they say and do on the stage is the public's business not the business of a commissioner of morals. The public knows what it wants, and what it doesn't. If the public wants burlesque outlived, okay, outlaw it. But don't put a premium on it. Don't take it away from a guy because he's only got 40 cents.

Work has been started on a new ladies' lounge at the Carver Hotel which promises to be a welcome addition to the facilities of the hotel.

Miss Georgianna Wells and Miss Mary Agnes Dillon left by motor this morning for Cleveland, Ohio, where they will be the guests of E. E. Clark and Miss Catherine Hartman.

Warren has as guests today a delegation of nine "marchers" en route to Washington to join the "bonus army" that has been encamped there for the past few weeks.

At the July meeting of the Warren borough council, held last evening, the resignation of Victor Granquist as councilman from the ninth ward was accepted. George Wells, new member from the fourth ward, was seated.

The Warren National Bank was successful bidder for $15,000 in bonds sold by the school board at cost of the new McClintock school over the amount of insurance from the old building.

Famous Troupe of Bare-Back Riders Appears With Circus

The world-famed Loyal-Repenski troupe of daring bare-back riders and acrobats will be one of the featured attractions in the arena of the Wallace Brothers trained animal circus when it comes to Warren for two performances on the brewery show grounds on the South Side next Friday, July 10.

Col. George Wallace recently announced the signing of this famous troupe as one of the outstanding achievements of his long career in the circus world.

The sensational performance given by the Loyal-Repenski Troupe includes twelve people each an accomplished artist. Five horses are used in the ring, and riders are riding, leaping and somersaulting from one horse to another, sometimes all on one horse, sometimes building pyramids standing on each other's shoulders using all five horses at a time for the many difficult feats.

The performance given by this renowned troupe is by far the most costly ever engaged by the Wallace Brothers in the many years they have been touring the American continent and has won great acclaim by all types of audiences, youngsters and oldsters alike than any other feature ever offered.

The Loyal-Repenski troupe, however, is but one of the many costly features assembled by the Wallace Brothers for their 1942 All-American Victory tour. Aerialists, acrobats, horses, clowns, beautiful girls and all manner of trained animals will be presented in a fast moving two-hour entertainment, which a said not to include a single dull moment from the beginning to the end.

It was announced today by the management of the circus that a special reduced rate is being offered for children 14 years of age and under at the afternoon performance only. In the advertisements of the circus, appearing this week, is a coupon. This coupon, when clipped and presented at the ticket wagon on the circus grounds Friday afternoon, will entitle children to the special reduced rate.

Ten and a quarter million dollars has been contributed to the USO War Fund during the first six weeks of the spring campaign which began May 11 and is due to end July 4. During this period it is expected that $20,000,000 will be raised for the work of USO in providing recreation for service men. The balance of the $32,000,000 War Fund will be sought in the fall. To date three states, New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona, have raised their quotas.

Pittsburgh, July 6.—(P)—Fifteen-year-old Shirley Fry of Akron, O., who was seeded only third, won the women's singles crown and shared in the women's doubles title in the finals of the Western Pennsylvania Tennis Championships yesterday.

In a blistering 40-minute match, she downed Kay Hackett of Coraopolis, 6-2, 6-2, in the singles and then teamed with Edna Shalala of Cleveland, to win the doubles from Mrs. Hackett and Dolly Harris of Edgeworth, 6-3, 6-3.

IRVINE STILL UNBEATEN IN SUNSET LOOP

Sweeping through the first half of the Sunset Baseball League without a loss, the National Forge ended their program in an auspicious manner Friday evening when they broke loose with a 22-hit barrage that accounted for a 16-0 pasting dealt to the high-flying Eagles, who came toppling to earth in the second inning after being hit with a seven-run outburst.

Diz Hines was credited with the victory, limiting the losers to two hits in five innings, after which Frank Kulick finished the game, giving up two more safeties, but neither could be trapped for a run.

Tonight the Forge winning streak, which is now nine games, is endangered as the second half begins and they face the raging State Hospital swatters, riding the crest of a three-game streak and bent on stretching it to four.

BANK SHOTS

The second half of the Sunset League begins tonight with the Forge and Hospital presenting the show, and interest is high in the contest, for the Hospital is determined to break the jinx that's hung over their past contests with Irvine, and down the Morrisonmen this evening . . . But, considering the reports of the two weekend ball games played against Corry by the Forge, it looks like the job is to be something gigantic . . . Manager "Emmy" Morrison told us after the Saturday evening game that he'd never seen the Forge hit so many extra base knocks in all their years of play as the did under the Loveland Park lights . . . When the team is hitting, it's little short of the Yankee lineup in power, but like the Yanks, had days come along, too . . . Freddie Gagliardi turned in the sweetest mound chore we've seen this season, though, when he pitched a one-hitter, while his mates defeated Corry, 2-1, in the afternoon ball game at Irvine . . . Owner of three no-hit, no-run games, he has now chalked up two one-hit contests in independent ball . . . Gagliardi also has a couple of others in past seasons in the Sunset League . . . A boon to any pitching staff . . . Russ Cassett hurled commendable ball also at Irvine, but the Forge cracked down on Mike Popovich in a hurry in the nightcap of the Independence Day double-header . . . The Corry Merchants had won six successive ball games since losing their opener to Medville, but their record book was staggered by the double defeat over the weekend . . . Meanwhile, the Irvine club was running its string to nine in a row without a defeat so far this season . . . Six triumphs are in the Sunset League and three victories have been over the State Hospital—all close, however.

Courageous and determined, the Boston Red Sox awaited the invasion of New York's powerful Yankees Friday, only three games behind the American League leaders and with three games to play against the world champions . . . So very quietly, so as not to disturb Joe Cronin, who was busy finishing Ted Williams for leading in a game against Washington, the McCarthy men stole the first and second decisions, dropped the third, but left the Hub with an increased margin of four games and had broken a slump, also the hopes of the Sox of ever seeing that cozy first place berth . . . The story in a nutshell of why the champions are champions, and will be champions at the end of 1942, just as the writer opined before the series last week . . . Arguments between sports writers are about as interesting as a detailed account of a checker game, so we'll ask Jack Schumacher, a fellow scribe, to kindly read again our column of June 25, and then he'll have the answer to his explosion on an article we printed concerning Diz Hines and Craig Bennett . . . Youngville or Pottsville, one of these high schools will own the services of Ed Hasler by autumn . . . The latest is that Pottsville, Ed's home town, is also dicker for his services, and it's a near fact now that he'll accept a position from one of these schools . . . To the fans of Bobo Newsum: Bobo, who also fancies himself as a hitter as well as pitcher, wants to bat left-handed . . . Manager Bucky Harris promises a fine if he does . . . Don't forget the Sunset League game tonight . . . It should be a first class encounter . . . Game time is 6:15 p. m. . . See you there!!!

Softball Loop Opens Second Half Tonight

The second half of the City Softball League will begin this evening at 6:15 o'clock on the west side diamond, weather permitting, and the principals in the fracas will be Recreation Center vs. Struthers-Weils.

The Center, first half winners, are favorites to capture tonight's decision, but a strengthened and spirited Struthers outfit, encouraged by a lopsided 22-2 win over Sons of Italy last week, hope to get off on the right foot in the fight for honors in the last half of loop play.

An error in the league schedule printed last Friday was discovered over the weekend, and managers are asked to correct the June 29th game on their slates.

As stated, the game calls for Struthers-Weils vs. Sons of Italy, but should be turned around with the plant workers the home team. The rest of the schedule is correct as it stands.

Four Pennsylvania cities have already gone "over the top for USO" in the current War Fund campaign. Grove City raised its quota of $3,600 in one day's campaigning. Coatesville has raised $8,462.63, or almost one thousand dollars over its quota of $7,500. Northampton has reported exceeding its goal of $4,150 and Nazareth passed its $3,000 goal by more than a thousand dollars.

SENIOR LOOP FAVORITE IN ALL-STAR GO

BY GAYLE TALBOT
New York, July 6.—(P)—For perhaps the first time since baseball's annual all-star classic was inaugurated 10 years ago, the National League's standard bearers will be the logical favorite when they clash with the American Leaguers at 6:30 (EWT) this evening in the Polo Grounds.

Trailing three victories to six in the previous games, the National Leaguers are seriously determined to win this one on superior pitching and to whittle down the advantage the junior circuit has built up by its vastly greater slugging ability.

The Nationals not only boast their usual fine set of pitchers, but they will go into today's game fortified by a group of hitters who, by the averages at least, stock up right alongside their rivals' star maulers.

Share Honors In Golf Event at Conewango

Mrs. John L. Blair and H. D. Hubbs, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Johnson tied for the honors in the 18-hole mixed foursome which featured the Fourth of July program at the Conewango Valley Country Club on Saturday.

Both pairs had low net of 74, but Mrs. Blair and Hubbs also held low gross with an 87. Second low net was taken by Mrs. Plummer Printz and Tim Creal.

In the two-ball best-ball tournament which will be completed this week, Roy Krider and Ray Elliott moved into the finals with a victory over Ralph Ruggaber and Charley Hubbard.

Marshall Parshall and Dr. Paul Stewart meet Bill Rice and Al Mitchell this week to decide who will play Krider and Elliott in the finals later in the week, sometime before Sunday.

Barnes

Barnes, July 3.—"The Old Crowd", a number of old schoolmates and girlhood friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Walter Hoyer, Saturday, and tendered her a real surprise birthday party.

The ladies had come well prepared and a delicious thirteen dinner was served at noon. The afternoon was spent reminiscing and Mrs. Hoyer was the recipient of many lovely gifts and greetings.

Those who were present were Mrs. C. E. Conquer, Mrs. George Conquer, Mrs. Raymond Hahn, of Barnes; Mrs. A. S. Brown, Miss Mayvis Brown, Mrs. B. J. Hoyer and Mrs. Isabelle Rice, of Sheffield; Mrs. Wayne Moore, of Clarion; Mrs. Alfred Swart, of Lakewood, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Moore and daughter, Peggy, and Mrs. C. D. Thompson of Clarion were guests at the home of Mrs. Anna Chandler, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Cook, Mrs. Walter Harwood and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Titus motored up from Washington, D. C. Sunday and visited until Thursday morning with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Cook. Marshall Cook, known to his many friends as "Tosh", has re-enlisted in the Coast Guards. On account of his former experience and ratings in this branch of service, he will receive a commission. Hugh Green Jr. of Washington, D. C. had been visiting his grandparents for the past week or so and accompanied them home. Mrs. Leon Roberts and son, Bruce, of Erie, were also guests of her parents this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Tyler and Mrs. John MacMartin, of Conewango, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacMartin, Monday evening. Little Miss Levia Hall accompanied them home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Titus and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Cook were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacMartin, Tuesday evening.

Richard Curtin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Curtin went to Jamestown, N. Y., where he passed the preliminary test for the United States Navy. He will take his final examination for this branch of the service at Buffalo, July 14th.

Miss Jean Curtin spent several days of last week at North Warren, where she was the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson.

Mrs. Frances Blair, of Corry, spent last Friday afternoon visiting her mother, Mrs. W. C. Hoyer. She was accompanied home by the Misses Jean, Phyllis and Nancy Armitage, who spent the afternoon with Miss Marjorie Hoyer.

Miss Nellie Titus, of Barnes, and Miss Mary Jane Richwalski, of Sheffield, left Monday for State College where they will spend the next six weeks in summer school.

Mrs. Sylvester Palumbo and children, Lois and Robert, of Superior, Minn., are guests this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Palumbo.

Chapter 13
The Bonds

BUT there was something else Joyce had to know.

"Haven't you any idea who killed Perry Clarke, Kent?"

"No."

"Not even a wild one?"

"No."

"Are you going to try and do anything about it?"

"Why should I?"

"Well, you have helped the police before, you know."

"But not this time. Too many headaches in fooling around with murder cases."

"You don't think Hester is mixed up with it?"

"No."

"But if you should find out that she would you—"

"Oh, Lord," Murdock groaned, and his voice sounded as though he'd buried his face in the pillow.

"Well, would you?"

"No. Why should I? Clarke was a rat. You said so yourself."

"Not rat, darling, I said—"

"You know what I mean. Probably he had it coming to him. I don't know who killed him, and I don't care and I'm not going to try and find out. He sat up, she could see his silhouette against the window. "And neither are you. You keep out of it."

She made no answer, but after he had flopped down again she did a lot of thinking. That slip of paper Kent had mentioned. Hester's name led the list and that $100,000 opposition. Joyce remembered the conviction grew that Hester knew a great deal about the death of Perry Clarke, and she was glad now that she had promised Delia Stewart to keep her secret. Kent's reaction to her inquiry about Hester settled that much for her.

Inquisition
WHEN Kent and Joyce Murdock arrived at Hester's house the following morning at eleven o'clock, Lillian Barnes and his assistants had already eliminated those guests at the cocktail party who had no apparent contact with the late Perry Clarke; the others were gathered in the library.

They said their good-mornings and found places, Joyce taking the leather chair next to Dean Thorndike and Hester, and Murdock perching on a window seat. Delia Stewart was deep in a chair in one corner and Ward Allen had chosen the bench in front of the fireplace. Bacon was leaning the desk under the Murdocks were seated; then he rubbed his chin and cleared his throat.

"We'll get this over with just as soon as we can," he said, glancing at the police stenographer who was seated off to one side, an open notebook in his lap and a pencil poised. "You all know why you're here. I hope you'll co-operate."

He sat down and rearranged some papers on the desk. When he looked up his gray eyes inspected each one in turn and finally came back to Hester Losado.

"How long were you married to him, Mrs. Losado?"

"About nine months."

"That was in France?"

Hester nodded.

"After that you went to South America and married again, Clarke followed you there, didn't he?"

"Hardly followed," Hester said. "He came about a year later."

"What was his business there?"

"I'm not quite sure," Hester said. "He was an entertainer originally. He played piano and sang and acted as master of ceremonies—we worked together when we were married—and he did a little of that in Caragua when he first arrived; later I believe he worked for some importing concern."

Axis Retreat In Egypt Is Pushed By British Army

(From Page One)

The Times quoted unofficial reports that Gen. Rommel held a desert meeting yesterday with Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German army; Gen. Ugo Cavallero, chief of the Italian general staff, and other high officers to decide on the next move.

The Paris radio broadcast a report that Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, the British general who drove the Italians out of Egypt and far across the Libyan desert last year, had arrived in Cairo and gone into immediate conference with Gen. Auchinleck.

Gen. Wavell is now commander in chief of India.

In Russia, German dispatches described operations along the Don as a "big and broad offensive thrust" and the Berlin press proclaimed it "the beginning of the big push."

"Strong enemy groups encircled west of the Don face annihilation. Soviet attacks supported by tanks to relieve the pressure broke down," Hitler's headquarters said.

The Nazi command acknowledged, however, that "strong forces" of Russians had launched their own offensive above Orel, 210 miles south of Moscow, and that the Red armies were only "partly repulsed" by counter-attacking Germans.

German military quarters emphasized that the British had brought up "strong reserves" and that "El Alamein is composed of strong fortifications."

The Germans officially claimed last week that they had broken through El Alamein's fortifications.

It was the fifth day of the critical "Battle of the Bottleneck" raging along the Mediterranean coastal escarpment near El Alamein, 65 miles west of Alexandria.

British casualties were officially described as "slight."

Boostered by strong land and aerial reinforcements, the British were reported previously to have thrown Rommel's armored columns back from a strategic ridge south of El Alamein.

In Cairo and Alexandria, optimism increased hourly over news of General Auchinleck's fresh triumphs over "Rommel, The Fox."

Dispatches from the front said the invaders, spent by their swift 350-mile sweep across the desert from Tobruk, were beginning to suffer from lack of food and water.

U. S. army warplanes bombed and machinegunned Rommel's vital lines of communication.

at the University of Pennsylvania, he used to frame his compositions mentally while driving through rush-hour traffic in his suburban home.

In the midst of rodeo work and a boxing career that led him to the lightweight amateur championship of the southwest, he wrote a suite for orchestra that won him a scholarship at the University of Chicago.

Wagon Is Hit By Truck Of Clarion Man

An unique sort of accident occurred on U. S. Rt. 6 at Clarion Heights about 7:30 o'clock this morning when a wagon drawn by a team of work horses, driven by Cecil Blum, R. D. 1, Clarion, was struck in the rear by a coal truck, owned by Zacheel Wilson, of Clarion, and operated by Fred Stuck, also of Clarion.

The team and wagon was headed south on Route 6 when struck by the coal truck, according to information gathered by Private Paul Dell, of the local barracks of the state motor police.

The impact frightened the horses, causing them to run off the road on the north side, then back across the road and off the south side, where they ran on opposite side of a telegraph pole, breaking loose from the wagon as it struck the pole.

Complete details were not available today but further investigation of the accident is being made by Private Dell, according to his report.

Citizenship May Be Lost

Los Angeles, July 6.—(P.) Friedrich Walter Bergmann, German born geologist, was told the oath of allegiance in 1937, may be deprived of his citizenship because, U. S. Assistant Attorney James L. Crawford charges, he stated "Hitler is a kind gentleman who wants to do only what is good."
